

About Relocation Agent Network

Relocation Agent Network is a national network of local, independent relocation specialists. As the only estate agent in the area selected to represent the Network, your local Relocation Agent has demonstrated their exceptional local knowledge and service commitment.

In our opinion, and we know what makes a good Relocation Agent, there is no one better to assist you with your move than a Relocation Agent Network member.

How do we know what makes a good estate agent? We are a division of Cartus, the premier provider of global relocation services. In 2013, Cartus managed more than 165,000 moves around the world and with 35 years in the UK property market, we know through experience what makes a great agent.

Relocation Agent Network

Wouldn't it be great to have a friend already living in the area you are moving to? Someone who could provide trusted advice on the up and coming areas, school catchments, local shops and restaurants, or real world commuting.

Relocation Agent Network members have been selected because they can bring that personal touch to their professional services. Our national network of hand picked Relocation Agents work together to deliver trusted, expert advice whatever your budget. Sounds expensive? Actually it costs you nothing, and is a standard part of the enhanced service offered by your local Relocation Agent Network member. Our difference is in the service, not the price.

How exactly does it work?

Let's say for example that you are thinking of moving home. First you visit or call your local Network agent to talk through your plans. With your permission, they contact a fellow agent in the area you would like to move to, who then calls you to understand what you are looking for, explain the local property situation and answer any questions you might have about the area. They can identify properties in the area that meet your needs and send you through a shortlist of properties, saving you time and effort in that search for your next home. Of course, your Relocation Agent Network member would also be delighted to help you sell your property.

With something as important as your next home - can you afford not to give us a try? You have nothing to lose and it could be the best decision you make in your next move.

The benefits of using a Relocation Agent:

- Exclusively selected
- Quality accredited
- Independent local knowledge
- Personal service with national reach
- Recommended conveyancing, financial and removal services.

Whether you are looking to buy, sell or rent, our members go that extra mile to ensure that you receive a personal service backed by exceptional local knowledge. Remember to check that your agent is an accredited member of Relocation Agent Network – and rest assured that your move is in a safe pair of hands.
